

Time Credit for Prior Public Service

FOR MEMBERS

Your city may provide time credit for prior public employment. Time credit can help you reach your city's TMRS vesting and retirement eligibility requirements sooner.

There are two categories of time credit that your city may offer:

Restricted Prior Service Credit. Restricted prior service credit provides time credit for your active-duty military service or previous full-time employment with any U.S. public employer, including federal, state, county or city. There is no limit on the amount of time credit you can be granted. To apply, complete the Application for Restricted Prior Service Credit available under the "For Members" section at tmrs.com.

Military Service Credit. Military service credit grants you time credit for prior active-duty military service. The maximum time credit you can receive is five years. To apply, complete the Application for Military Service Credit (Time Only) available under the "For Members" section at tmrs.com.
